MONEY AND STOCKS.

Comparison of Clearances and Balances - Report of Associated Banks of Indianapolis. Money continues to be in fair demand at 7@8 per cent. Local bank clearances and balances Saturday, as compared with the same date last year, were as follows:

Nov. 28, 1891. Nov. 28, 1890. $672,924.80 Clearances $995,944.24 Balances 160,064.56 The clearances and balances for Thanksgiving week were as follows, compared with the corresponding week in 1890:

The banks hold $2,809,221.09 cash in excess of the 33% per cent. required by the clearing-house rule. NEW YORK QUOTATIONS. At New York, yesterday, money on call was easy, with no loans, closing offered at 3 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5@61/2 per cent. Sterling exchange was quiet and barely steady at $4.80% for sixty-day bills and full, $2.15@2.25; light, $1.20; string beans, 85 $4.83% for demand.

The total sales of stocks were 74,858 shares, including the following: Atchison, 4,850; Chicago Gas, 25,380; Delaware Lackawanna & Western, 2,100; Louisville & Nashville, 24,911; Erie, 2,220; Northern Pacific preferred, 2,330; St. Paul, 29,000; Union Pacific, 5,565.

The stock market was again intensely dull and without feature of any kind other than the continued weakness in Chicago Gas, which was soid freely by the "bears," and scored a final loss of 1% per cent. Another increase in the bank reserves shows that the tendency in all important financial centers is in the direction of easy money at lower rates. The improvement in the position of the associated banks. however, had no immediate effect upon the stock market, and dullness and stagnation was the only characteristics of the general list throughout the session. The opening was from % to 1/2 per cent. higher than the previous night's figures, but the pressure upon Chicago Gas begun immediately, and while it was powerless to affect any material decline in railroad stocks, it checked any disposition to operate, even on the part of the traders, which may have existed. As a consequence, a drooping tendency was given the list, although the finctuations were insignificant in all cases. Chicago Gas was forced off to 50 from 61,

It closed 1% per cent. lower. Railroad bonds were equally quiet, though the selling of the securities inbrought the total up to $814,000, of which $180,000 were Union Pacific, Denver & Gulf first. They closed down 1, at 72, and Short-line fives at 72. A few advances occurred, but the market lacked feature. Government bonds were dull and firm, while State bonds were neglected. Closing and failed to rally more than 's per cent.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

Slight Advance in Quotations on Wheat and Corn -Settling Up November Deals. The market, Saturday, on 'Change was firmer in all cereals. - cars of wheat were inspected in; also thirteen cars of corn and two cars of hay.

Buyers for export report no changes. Eastern markets for graded corn are strong and the difference is widening between contract and lower grades. The demand for corn seems to be ahead of the ability of | caster Nomanda, Se: Carrolton, 434c; Renthe railroads to furnish cars, and there is considerable complaint on that account. Speaking to Horses. Correspondence National Stockman.

The horse is possessed of as good hearing as his owner usually, and can be made to heed words of command given in a moderate tone as well as those hurled at him with all the strength of a driver's lungs. Some have got in the habit of yelling at their horses as if they were half a mile away, and seem to think that it is the only way to get along with a team. It may be if the horses have been edncated in that way, but there is no need of teaching them this in the first place. notice that the horses of such men don't mind as well as those of their milderspoken neighbors; they seem to have become used to the racket and found that nothing less than a terrific howl (and may be a clod or cut of the whip) means much. It is noticeable that children constantly scolded pay least attention to rebukes, and the same holds good with dogs and horses in obeying orders. I believe, as a rule, it is best to speak to the horses in a tone somewhat above the ordinary, always taking care to make the command distinet. Never give a word of command unless it is meant. Some men say "whoa" when they don't mean for the horse to stop at all; the result is when they say "whoa," and mean it, the horse doesn't always stop. Another thing is necessarywhen certain a horse has heard, always -they hear but don't heed-and it is necessary to wake them up every now and then. I have never seen a man yet that didn't sometimes get rattled and yell at his team with all his power, nor a team that wouldn't make most any man lose his temper occasionally; but there is no need of either man or team making a habit of it.

Pitting Potatoes. American Cultivator. Where potatoes are to be kept through the winter and are not wanted for market or use till spring, a well-constructed pit out of doors is the best way to keep them. Cellars are always too warm, and even a temperature of 500 starts the eyes, whether the cellar be light or dark. In a dark cellar the potatoes in a bin will be found grown together if not examined frequently. In out-of-door pits, unless the winter is extremely warm, scarcely an eye will have started up to the time the pit is ready to be opened. Such potatoes, for seed, are worth double what the same potatoes would be kept so warm that each eye has sprouted and must have its original growth broken off. It stands to reason that this first growth has greater vigor than will any one that starts afterward. The pit should only be lightly covered and good ventilation be given up to the time of severe freezing. Just before that put on another coat of straw over the whole heap and cover with four or five inches depth of soil. If weather below zero is threatened in winter draw a few loads of manure from the horse stables and give the pit another covering. When thus trebly covered there is little danger that even zero weather will reach down to freeze the potatoes.

Celery.

Pittsburg Post. About two hundred acres of celery are grown annually in the vicinity of Tecumech, Mich., and the industry is very profitable. The early celery is not grown in trenches, but the plants are set on top the ground, and level cultivation is practiced. When the plants are fourteen to fifteen inches high, boards are set up on each side the row to blanch them. This requires two or three weeks, and the first shipments to market are made about the 1st of August. The white plume is the chief va riety for both early and late planting. The late crop is set in fur-rows four inches deep, and is banked with dirt by a shovel plow. The first banking is given about Sept. 20, and another later in the season. The plants are set by hand, a good workman putting out five thousand a day. From thirty thousand to 35,000 plants are set on an acre. Muck makes the best soil for celery; and the best celery land, which is only a bed of muck, is valued at $300 or $400 per acre. The crop is an expensive one, but sales often amount to $700 an acre. The demand for celery is good, and is constantly increasing.

Intensive agriculture does not mean immense tracts of land under cultivation and belonging to one man. It means "small forms and a heap of 'em" in a high state of culture, yielding from two to twenty times as much per acre as is commonly grown Early Buyers Unloaded and "Short" Sellers Hammered with Good Effect.

The Scare Caused by the Corn Corner Was Largely Dissipated and that Month Sagged Off 12 Cents from Its Highwater Mark.

TRADING AT CHICAGO. Surmised that the Last "Short" Has Settled and the Squeeze in Corn Done With. CHICAGO, Nov. 28 .- The wheat market made a little show of strength early in the day, mainly on some higher private cables and rumors of a cold wave forming in the Northwest and threatening the winterwheat region. For a time there was a fair amount of buying, largely by the "short" interest, but December touched 98 se and May $1.00%. The business was exceedingly dull, and in the absence of buyers heaviness weakness. Some of the early buy- iron cotton-ties, $1.35@1.40. Provisions ers began to unload their purchases and "short" sellers commenced to hammer the market. Pardridge and Cudahy, who had been good buyers early, afterward sold generously, and the market failing to get much support, prices soon gave way. December touching 9240 and May 99%c. There was no life or animation in the trade, and the weakness was more the result of the duliness than any especially bearish features which were developed. The board's early cables were undecipherable, but private advices were that foreign markets were stronger. There the figures last quoted, but there was renewed weakness during the last hour, December going to 924c and May to 994sc on reports of lower prices at Berlin and Ant-werp. The close was steady at 924c for December and 994c for May. Corn was weak and lower. The squeeze for November seemed to be gradually subsiding. "Shorts" have either generally covered or have resolved to stand out and face the consequence. At the start there were sellers at 76c, but there were no transactions until it had fallen to 70c and finally at 66c. There is a rumor that "shorts" will tender new No. 2 on their contracts. With very light transactions and no excitement the close was steady at 68c. It was rumored that the weakness on this month was due to the only remaining heavy "short" having settled with the chique. At any rate, the closing price shows a drop of 12c per bushel compared with the opening price of yesterday. The deferred futures are also weak. May opened unchanged at 43c, touched 43 sc, weakened to 42 to, and was a slight reaction after the recession to

Oats were very dull and closed 40 lower than on yesterday. With large receipts of hogs at the yards and prices 10@15c lower, with grains weak and with an immense stock of pork on hand, provisions were naturally weak. The tendency was slowly downward through the session, and the close was at about inclosed at 42%c.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 28.—Wheat was very weak to-day, and dropped down the scale with the greatest ease. December opened at 87c, and at once dropped off %c, seconded by May, which opened at 94% @950 and went to 94%c. There were but few sales, and offerings went behind as a rule, until sellers got down to the bear level. December received but little attention and the small business done placed the market at 85%c bid, and, while there was a slight recovery, the close was made at this figure. Wheat thus sold for the first time this season below 86c. May broke to 94c and wavered there to a close at that figure. The cash market was in pretty good spirit and a good deal of cash wheat was sold, but at prices materially under 88c. The average for No. 1 Northern was about 874c. Receipts of wheat here were 491 cars; Duluth, 192 cars. Stone Roads.

Country Gentleman.

The most improved method to-day is after the road is properly graded and rounded, to dump and spread with a shovel or hoe fine broken stone from three to six inches thick directly on the surface, using no stones larger than a hen's egg for the lower layer; then spread a light covering of clay soil to fill up the crevices and bind the whole together. After a rain or shower another coat of finer stone and stone dust is put on from three to six inches thick. Frem eight to fifteen feet in width of the center of the road is finished in this way. In some cases the stone is afterward rolled with a heavy roller, but this is not generally done. The horses's feet and wagon wheels soon compress and make the surface hard and smooth. Some prefer to use the fine and coarse stone mixed, as it comes from the crusher without it being sifted, and not use the clay soil as above suggested. The wear of travel, washing rains and springy ground will in two or three years make necessary a light redressing with tine stone.

Truth-Telling an Art.

All the Year Bound Telling the truth is an art, but not pearly so difficult an art as telling lies. It is within reach of any man's powers, if he will take time and pains, to relate the thing that is. It takes a man of imagination and strong memory to bring forth the thing that is not. Besides, the har cannot carry his lie all over the world and back to the creation; at some point or other he must piece it onto the universal truth, and to do that neatly he must be a good workman. But this is only part of the greater question as to vice and virtue generally. Virtue is for all who love it; in order to become an accomplished villain a man must have natural aptitude, careful training and immense powers of application. And at any time the villain may be ruined, as a villain, by the unexpected coming to life

They said I was consumptive, sent me te Florida, told me to keep quiet, no excite ment, and no tennis. Just think of it One day I found a little book called 'Guide to Health,' by Mrs. Pinkham, and in it I found out what ailed me. So I wrote to her, got a lovely reply, told me just what to do, and I am in splendid health now."
